

The top graph shows a car starting at a distance of 100m and moving towards a distance of 0m. The bottom graph shows a car starting at a distance of 0m and moving towards a distance of 100m. Both graphs show a shaded region representing the possible range of distances over time, with a blue line indicating the actual path of the car.

